You may think that, during your lifetime, you have studied and heard every aspect of prophetic teaching. However, this two CD series demonstrates how knowledge is being increased and understanding is being released on the earth as God is preparing His people for what is soon to come. Get ready to hear some true, spiritual revelation!

CD1: BIRTH PANG CYCLES OF 2026 AND BEYOND

In this audio CD, Perry explains that throughout history, prophetic birth pangs seem to occur in four-year cycles. He delves into the upcoming cycle beginning in 2026 and how certain signs are indications to the discerning prophetic student that a new cycle has begun. This is said to be one of Perry's best prophetic messages of the past several years.

CD2: UNLEASHING THE NEW PRE-TRIBULATION SIGNS

For every major, biblical prophetic event, signs will occur that indicate the main prophetic fulfillment is just over the horizon. In this masterful explanation, prophetic teacher Perry Stone will explore the numerous pre-tribulation events that point to the major prophetic fulfillments of the Great Tribulation.

Three Times That God Surprised Me

IT OFTEN IS NOT what we expect to happen that amazes us; it's those things that we did not see coming. And when it happens, it astonishes us. I want to share three times that God did something so quickly that I never saw it coming. Then I will make a point to remember.

1. THE VOE MIRACLE

When we were constructing the Voice of Evangelism's first 25,000-square-foot building, the Lord impressed me to give away a large sports card collection as a seed. If I would obey Him, the new VOE facility would be paid in full on the day of dedication. I gave away 18 boxes of valuable sports cards to a ministry. Months later, the night before the VOE building dedication, we were $100,000 short of the amount needed to pay off the building. However, on the day of the dedication, I had no idea that God had already placed it on people's hearts to bring an offering. When the offerings were counted, it was enough to pay off the building in full on the day of dedication, just as the Lord had promised! It is a moment I will always remember.

2. THE OCI MIRACLE

When I announced that VOE would build the gathering place called Omega Center International, we knew the building would cost millions of dollars. We also knew it would take a miracle to get the money. Each Thursday at prayer meeting, we would pray for God to "awaken the spirit of a millionaire" and to "release money to be used for the new vision and building." After much prayer and trusting that God would provide, we suddenly received a check for one million dollars. That was something that had never happened in the history of our ministry. This built everyone's faith as we continued to believe for the rest. Each time we needed a financial breakthrough, God would amaze us with another miracle check from an unnamed source. By the day of our dedication service, the entire facility was paid in full. This blessing was both amazing and humbling. It was a great faith builder for me and everyone who saw the hand of God at work.

3. THE J.G. MIRACLE

This was one of the most amazing turnarounds I have seen. The enemy placed a target on our son Jonathan from the time he was ten months old. He was a wonderful child who was homeschooled while traveling with his mom and me until age 11.

In his teen years, J.G., Jonathan Gabriel, became addicted to alcohol and drugs. On one occasion, he could have died in the emergency room. His mom and I, along with many friends and partners, battled in prayer for years for his safety and deliverance. At times, we would see a ray of hope, only to watch the clouds of darkness return.

God finally answered our prayer. Jonathan married and gave us three beautiful grandchildren. Then, in the spring of 2025, suddenly the “light came on,” and Jonathan had a life-changing experience with the Lord and discovered his destiny in life as a writer, content creator, and researcher. Having battled for years, Pam and I consider this a miracle. He is a different person and is now assisting in various ministries.

Jonathan has personally initiated Meta-Verse for his stories and podcasts. He formed Stone’s Crossing for the new children’s ministry. He, Pam, and I formed The Stone Media Group. Our publisher told me that Jonathan has a great mind and is a creative writer. We have known this for many years and can now understand why the battle for his purpose was so intense. This turnaround and Divine intervention was a positive and pleasant God surprise.

I am very proud of both Jonathan and Amanda. Both are actively involved in ministry. They have their own unique gifts; Amanda is a great artist and teacher, while Jonathan is especially gifted in writing, researching, and storytelling. The grandchildren, now 7, 5, and 3, are each showing skills and talents, even at such young ages. Continue to train up your children in the way they should go, and when they are old, they will not depart from it (Proverbs 22:6).

PATIENCE AND ENDURANCE

Besides these wonderful blessings, over the past decade, there have been several circumstances beyond our control that required the family or me to patiently endure and wait for the breakthrough. We would lament like David, “How long, oh Lord?” On more than one occasion, in one day, an unexpected report, e-mail, or phone call came in that suddenly changed a situation or ended a long battle.

I truly understand the biblical admonition about patience and endurance (Luke 21:19). Patience is the ability to endure difficulty, delay, and uncertainty, while trying to remain calm and not become anxious, frustrated, or angry. It takes patience to see issues resolved with time.

We are also told to “endure to the end” (Matthew 24:13). To endure means “to bear up under.” We must be able to bear the weight and pressure of waiting when it appears that nothing is happening. Seeds die in the darkness of the earth yet bring forth fruit in time. The dark times are where trust is built between you and the Father, and where you demonstrate your trust by remaining steadfast and standing firm in faith until the answer comes. 📖

While in deep study and prayer, Perry received a spiritual download concerning the death of Charlie Kirk and the strategy of the “Threat Assessment.” This is a very important revelation, including the 5 subtle methods the adversary is using when attacking the spiritual leaders, attempting to take them out in order to scatter the flock. You will hear some important new insight that can be used as a shield against future strategies in your own walk with God.

Trying to Find Time for This

PAM STONE

FOR SEVERAL YEARS, I have wanted to write a cookbook, but not one with just recipes. I want to include stories related to the recipes and pictures that we have never placed in any ministry publication. I have had this idea for years, but my biggest challenge is finding the time to work on this project, since there are always personal, ministry, and unexpected responsibilities that take priority over this. I have a name for the cookbook, but Perry warned me not to publicize it, because it's such a unique title, he was sure someone would take it and run with it.

My family and close friends are aware that one of my enjoyments in life is spending time in the kitchen preparing meals. Sometimes, to save time and energy, we order dinner from a local restaurant and bring it home for the seven of us to gather around the table and have a meal together. But when I have the time, I truly enjoy meal preparation. When there's a time crunch, I might prepare soups.

During the holidays, we will have as many as 30 people in our home, eating together, fellowshiping, playing games, and just enjoying time with family and friends. Guests sometimes help by bringing one of their favorite dishes. While it is always a lot of work, there's no way I would stop doing it. This is also something Amanda and I do, and we enjoy this time together. When you love what you do, it doesn't feel so much like work.

One certain family member is known as my "mini-me." She is our youngest granddaughter, Arukah, nicknamed Ru-Ru. If you see pictures of me around ages four to five, Arukah looks like my twin. When she spends the night at the house and I prepare breakfast, she drags plastic steps to the kitchen and stands on them to crack eggs, mix pancake batter, or butter biscuits. We call her the little chef. We posted a video on the ministry Facebook page of her preparing penguin pancakes. It was a hit. She received tens of thousands of views. She has a funny personality and makes up her own words. I love watching all three grands as they grow up and find their personality and their love for God.

Back to the cookbook. I am hoping to get some help working on this project, and I think the book will be enjoyable for all the ladies and long-time friends connected to VOE. Hopefully the project will come together, perhaps this year. Ladies, if you're a wife, mother, and grandmother, you know it's easy to put things on the back burner because something more important comes along to take a priority. Just taking care of Perry and ministry responsibilities can be a full-time job!

Until the time arrives when we can complete such a project, keep coming to the Main Event Fall Festival and enjoying those old-fashioned fried pies! 🥞

Love and Prayers,
Pamela Stone

New Testament Women Leaders You Seldom Hear Mentioned

IN

THE 21ST CENTURY, there is still a sharp division among denominations regarding women directing a ministry or pastoring a church. Critics who are against a woman in leadership often lean more on their traditional denominational beliefs than on an overview of scripture and early church history to gain a complete understanding of the controversy.

In the New Testament, there were several noted women who hosted churches in their homes. In those days, there were few if any physical church structures, as these were built later throughout the Holy Land, beginning in the time of Emperor Constantine. Under the Byzantines, many large churches were constructed. A few are still standing, including Church of the Nativity in Bethlehem. Some that are still standing were converted to mosques during Ottoman rule.

Thousands of house churches served as gathering places for early believers. Five women are noted in the New Testament as hosting church meetings in their homes. Lydia was a wealthy businesswoman in Philippi who was baptized with her family and hosted Paul and Silas during their ministry in the city. Her home became the first European house church (Acts 16).

In Jerusalem, one of the leading house churches was the home of Mary, the mother of John Mark. This was the home where the believers gathered to pray when Peter was arrested (Acts 12). After the angel released Peter, he headed directly to this house.

A woman named Nympha is mentioned in Colossians 4:15, where Paul is sending greetings “to the church in her house,” which was located in Laodicea. Priscilla, the wife of Aquila, is mentioned by Paul in Romans 16:3-5 and 1 Corinthians 16:19. Aquila and Priscilla hosted house churches in Rome and Ephesus. Chloe is another woman whom Paul refers to when mentioning “Chloe’s house,” suggesting she was a Christian leader in her home at Corinth (1 Corinthians 1:11).

In yet another passage, Paul commended Phoebe, a deaconess (servant) of the church in Cenchrea, where Christians were meeting in her home. She was a strong supporter of Paul (Romans 16:1-2). In 2 John, the Apostle John addressed a woman with a house church whom he called the “chosen lady” and the “elect lady” and her children, who were part of the church.

In the New Testament, men were not the only ones with prophetic gifts. Phillip the evangelist had four virgin daughters who prophesied (Acts 21:9).

History reveals that from the beginning of Christianity, women received the Gospel and accepted Christ much faster than men. Traditionally, women are more sensitive when responding to the Holy Spirit’s conviction and power. According to the New Testament and early church history, women held positions that included teachers, prophetesses, missionaries, and leaders of house churches. This was true in many towns and cities in the Roman Empire, and it was also evident in the early Pentecostal movement.

When I was a child, my Father pastored a church in the small mountain town of Big Stone Gap, Virginia. During those seven years, several men in town were saved under Dad’s ministry. However, most of the church membership was women of all ages. The older woman led prayer, taught Sunday School, fried pies, and sold food to help pay the monthly expenses. Without their help, the church could have been forced to shut its doors.

During Christ’s ministry, Joanna and Suzanna were two women whose husbands were wealthy men. Both women are said to have supported Christ with their finances (Luke 8:3). When all the male disciples except John fled the crucifixion scene, it was the women who stood faithfully with Christ at the cross (Matthew 27:55-56). When eleven male disciples were hiding in a home in Jerusalem, it was three women who arrived early with spices to anoint Christ’s body (Luke 24:1). Women were at Christ’s ascension, in the upper room waiting for the Day of Pentecost (Acts 1:14).

It may surprise some to know that in the early church, women served as deaconesses. The word deacon is diakonos, which means a trusted person who serves or helps. Their jobs included serving, giving instruction, teaching, assisting with children, baptizing women and, at times, visiting and caring for the sick.

The culture in Christ’s day was centered upon men leading and women serving. However, with the promise of the outpouring of the Holy Spirit, both sons and daughters, servants (men) and handmaids (women) will prophecy (Joel 2:28-29). The word prophecy alludes to proclaiming God’s word and can include prophetic utterances, through the gift of prophecy (1 Corinthians 12:7-10). Churches that reject the operation of the nine gifts of the Spirit and refuse to believe in the outpouring of the Spirit tend to also reject the idea of a woman being called into the ministry. The spiritual fruit from many women ministers is the visible evidence of their calling into the ministry.

My father once received a letter from someone who rejected the idea that God calls a woman to preach. The letter was sent to the wrong man! Dad accepted Christ during a revival near War, West Virginia that continued for three and one-half years. The revival was directed by a woman minister named Mildred Collins. Revival services continued nightly and rotated between two to three different churches for 42 months. Not only were Dad and his brother won to Christ in that revival, but seventy young men were converted to Christ and many were called into the ministry, all because of one woman’s obedience.

Each year, churches are closing across America and in Europe, and there are not enough ministers to lead congregations. According to Axios, in 2025, there were 15,000 church buildings that closed their doors. It is estimated that 100,000 will close in the next few years. Aging congregations, lack of church attendance, operating costs, and lack of soul-winning are four of the main reasons for closures. Some people watch services from home on television or the internet, thus reducing weekly church attendance.

For many years, the underground church in Iran (Persia) has dealt with the danger of arrest, torture, and even death if caught expressing their Christian faith in any public form. The hundreds of thousands of Christians in Persia are mostly youth and include many women. Reports from inside are that the secret revival has been led predominately by women. God has and always will use both men and women to reach souls.

The harvest is great, but the laborers are few (Luke 10:2). There is a need for more teachers, preachers, and leaders worldwide to reach the lost. This is why, in the last days, God will raise up male and female, young and old, from all ethnic groups to reach these souls. God used women of God in both testaments and throughout church history, and He will continue to do so in the time of the end. 📖

This unique and at times humorous message is for all of you who are heading toward the age of 50 or have passed that milestone marker. It has recently been proven that there is a cognitive change that occurs in men and women at age 50. A person must get rid of all pre-conceived ideas and determine whether they will renew the rest of their life for vision or sit back, living off the memories of yesterday. Perry explains how to operate in the right season after 50!

In my entire ministry, I had never heard a message about this one man, who played a significant role in David's life. When studying his reaction to a blessing David wanted to give him, this aged man used the excuse that he was just too old to enjoy anything. This same spirit (attitude) has attached itself to many of God's saints. This is an important revelation we hope you hear!

CD323 | $7

This message is taught from personal experiences that Perry and Pam have been through. There are tests from God to prove you (Deut. 8:2); tests from Satan to sift you (Luke 22:31); tests from people to discourage you (Psalms 41:9), and trials permitted to correct you (Heb. 12:6). Pam had some wisdom for these times of trials that Perry shares on this important message.

DISCERNING A SPIRITUAL DREAM

SPIRITUAL DREAMS are one of the avenues that God has always used to provide future information, warnings, and instructions to his prophets, apostles, and servants. Most scholars have noted 21 distinct prophetic dreams in the Bible. God spoke to Moses saying, “Hear now my words: If there be a prophet among you, I the Lord will make myself known unto him in a vision, and will speak unto him in a dream” (Numbers 12:6). Abraham, Jacob, Joseph, Gideon, Daniel, Mary’s husband Joseph, the wise men, and many others experienced meaningful dreams and visions during their lifetimes. Visions and dreams will become more relevant as part of the last day outpouring of the Holy Spirit (Joel 2:28-29).

A SPIRITUAL VERSUS CARNAL DREAM

One of the common questions is, “How can I discern if a dream is from the Lord, or if it’s just a dream with no specific meaning?” My dad, my brother, and I have experienced dreams that were often spiritual warnings. Sometimes these dreams revealed the secret intents of certain people, possible dangerous situations, or a way to escape some secret plot of adversity. There are several factors that help determine if a dream is spiritual and if it’s concealing a meaning through its symbolism.

1. THE STRANGE SYMBOLISM

Just as apocalyptic books in the Bible, such as Daniel and Revelation, use animal symbolism to represent nations or empires of prophecy, a spiritual dream will oftentimes conceal hidden meanings through use of symbolism. Throughout scripture, numbers have specific meanings, as do colors. Animals are frequently used to represent a specific characteristic of a nation or leader. A dove is white (a color for purity) and gentle, representing the Holy Spirit (Matthew 3:16). A serpent is symbolic of Satan, deception, or sin (Genesis 3:1; Revelation 20:2). A lamb is a symbol for Christ, the Lamb of God, slain from the foundation of the world (John 1:29; Revelation 13:8). Water is a natural element that can also represent the flowing of the Holy Spirit within a believer (John 7:38).

In a spiritual dream, the dreamer will often see symbols that have a biblical reference: wheat fields, animals, fruit trees, dangerous creatures, and many other symbols that are found in the Bible. Any interpretation based on symbolism must find its original meaning in scripture. Once God establishes the first meaning of a symbol, that primary meaning is carried throughout the Bible.

Years ago, I had dreams of alligators in muddy waters, piranhas, and large snakes. These creatures have three common traits: all are dangerous, all can kill, and all use their mouths to devour. I interpreted these dreams as individuals who were working against me and the ministry, using their mouths to cause damage, harm, or intimidation. At that time, other spiritually minded people told us they'd had similar dreams of dangerous animals, which symbolized people.

2. THE DREAM CAN BE TROUBLING

A second point in discerning if a dream is from the Lord is that a warning dream or one with a spiritual application will remain with you and cause your mind and spirit to be troubled. When Nebuchadnezzar dreamed of the large, metallic image, we read that, "his spirit was troubled and his sleep left him" (Daniel 2:1). In a second incident, the king was given another dream and we read, "[the dream] made me afraid, and the thoughts upon my bed and the visions of my head troubled me" (Daniel 4:5). In a series of prophetic visions, Daniel experienced similar physical manifestations when he wrote, "I was grieved in my spirit in the midst of my body, and the visions of my head troubled me" (Daniel 7:15).

When you dream of something that troubles your spirit and you do not have immediate understanding, yet the dream remains with you, then you should pray for the meaning or for confirmation. At times, I have had a somewhat troubling dream that faded as the day progressed and did not remain in my spirit. When this occurs, I generally pass it off and do not concern myself with it.

3. OTHER TYPES OF WARNINGS

In the past, I have dreamed of a tornado spinning in an area, near the ministry, or near a home. Sometimes this was a warning of a sudden crisis that often originated through a person in the ministry or home who was sowing discord, or a direct attack from the adversary who often used individuals as pawns.

James speaks of the tongue being like a fire that is difficult to control (James 3:5-8). Several years ago, a woman from South Africa dreamed of seeing small fires breaking out inside a large church facility. Eight years or so later, this proved to be the tongues of people spreading rumors, gossip, and unfounded information that had no factual basis of support.

Numerous times, I have dreamed of seeing large tsunami waves coming from the ocean, striking land, and causing great flooding and devastation on both coastlines. In these dreams, they all seem to be literal tsunamis, with no symbolic spiritual application. Jesus taught that "the sea and the waves would roar" (Luke 21:25), a verse that likely alludes to the roaring sound that occurs when tsunami waves are making their way inland. I still believe the tsunami warning dreams are literal indicators of future natural disasters.

4. DREAM INTERPRETATION

The Bible names several men who were gifted in interpreting dreams. The most noted are Jacob, Joseph, and Daniel. Based upon the narratives of Joseph in Egypt and Daniel in Babylon, interpreting dreams is a unique gift from God. Every early, ancient empire employed wise men to interpret the leaders' dreams or read heavenly omens concerning the future (Daniel 2). In the case of Daniel, none of the Babylonian wise men or magicians could interpret any of the king's dreams or the handwriting on the wall of the banquet hall (Daniel 5). This ability required a man in whom was the Spirit of the true God (Daniel 5:14).

My dad experienced many meaningful spiritual dreams, along with a gift to interpret strange or obscure symbolism. A few times when he interpreted a dream, I would say to myself, "How in the world did he get that meaning from that dream?" Weeks, months, or at times years later, everything he saw in the dream came to pass as he interpreted it.

The interpretation of any prophetic/spiritual dream is either literal, as revealed in the dream, or symbolic using biblical symbols. The literal meaning is evident, such as an earthquake, a tsunami, flooding, or natural disasters. When my own dreams have animal symbols, the dream is typically warning of an attack or crisis caused by a person who exhibits a known trait of that animal.

For a few people, dreams are the primary way that God speaks to them. Someone who is a strong intercessor might have spiritual dreams every night and be able to interpret every one of them almost immediately. But for most people, their ordinary dreams will not have a specific meaning or need interpretation. Even so, dreams are one method God has always used to warn people or reveal the future (Acts 2:17). 🕊

THE BOOK THAT DETAILS AMERICA'S PAST, PRESENT, AND FUTURE PROPHETIC ROLE

Although this hard copy book was first published in 2010, many readers have been amazed at the prophetic insights that were written, including the ancient prophetic patterns that are concealed in the early founding and modern history of the United States. The 300 pages are filled with amazing historical insight regarding how and why God raised up America and how our patterns spiritually connect to ancient Israel. If you have never read this book, this is a great time to dig into the content and learn the patterns of America's past, present, and future.

THE NEW LEGACY CLUB: NEW PARTNER'S BENEFIT'S

THE VOICE OF EVANGELISM offices are five fireproof vault-type safes that hold 50 years of sermon notes, 45 years of VOE magazines, years of conference and revival messages, cassette sermons, and CD and DVD albums.

Some are messages from historic revivals, camp meetings, and conferences. We keep them stored in heavy fireproof safes to protect them from fire and other elements.

Months ago, I realized that these important sermons were birthed over decades of time, when I burned the midnight oil, prayed and studied for long hours into the night, and preached record-breaking revivals in many churches. Some of these were messages that people still remembered and talked about years and decades later. A few of the messages that listeners labeled as classics were God in Your Shoes; Heaven: Location, Destination; Lay It On Me; Revelation of the Word; Cheese and Crackers; and hundreds of others.

Now they're just sitting in vaults. These were faith building, soul winning, Holy Ghost filling, divine healing, spiritual warfare insights. They were messages on tapes and videos that people would never hear. Then inspiration struck me.

ADDITIONAL PARTNER BENEFITS

Many of the people who heard these messages when I preached them years ago have gone to be with the Lord, while many people alive today who care about and support our ministry have never heard these practical and powerful messages.

I am spending time selecting the ones I believe to be the most anointed, revelatory, and life-changing messages I preached over the past fifty years. We will be placing these and all the other new information on the Perry Stone website, under the password protected section that is for Partners only. Here the information can be accessed by our current and future partners to watch and listen to at your convenience.

We will change the name of the program from Partner Strike Force to Legacy Club. Current Partner Strike Force members will be automatically grandfathered into this program. Each month, beginning June 2026, current and new partners who support Voice of Evangelism with a donation of $30 or more a month ($360 a year) will be able to access the partners' only section of the website and view or listen to these messages. Legacy partners—current and new—will receive these added benefits:

- A monthly legacy video from a major revival or conference from the past
- Personally selected legacy audio messages from an early revival or event
- A bonus audio message, “A Blast from the Past,” that includes messages from my mentors and other great ministers
- At least one article or teaching from an older magazine.

The blast from the past will include ministers such as my own dad, Fred Stone, T. L. Lowery, Floyd Lawhon, M. H. Kennedy, Marcus Lamb, Jentezen Franklin, E. L. Terry, and others who preached during our earlier conferences. Many of these are ministers and friends you've heard me talk about over the decades.

These messages will NOT be transferred to DVDs or CDs. They will be accessible using your computer or phone when you become a member of the Legacy Club. I am also pulling special articles from 45 years of Voice of Evangelism magazines and placing them on the website where all the Legacy partners can read them. The subject matter varies, but they are written from years of study and research.

Here are the benefits already available to Partner Strike Force members:

- Access to the partners' only website
- A complimentary VOE magazine mailed out four times a year
- A special partner-only email for prayer requests and praise reports
- Partners' meet and greet and book signings during week-end conferences
- Access to any partners' webinars throughout the year.

“Many people have never heard these practical, powerful revelations and need to hear a word from the Lord in this season.”

NOW THE PARTNERSHIP ALSO INCLUDES:

- A monthly video from the vault
- Audio messages I've personally selected from a past revival or ministry event
- The bonus monthly “blast from the past” message
- The release of past articles, feature sermons, and writings from previous VOE magazines.

I am opening the door for 2,500 new partners to join our Legacy Club membership. To those who are already faithful Partners, these benefits will automatically be added as part of your membership.

We appreciate your faithfulness and commitment to this ministry and our outreaches, and we believe the added resources will be a great spiritual benefit to all who actively participate. We need many new partners to continue our worldwide outreaches to the nations. Over 98% of our financial support comes from within the United States and very little comes from outside of America. To reach nations outside of America costs half of our ministry budget. Therefore, it is important that many new friends and partners stand with us for the time that remains. I know that the future, if the Lord tarries, will be the most important for soul-winning in the history of our ministry.

If you are not already a Partner of the ministry, please pray and consider being one of the 2,500 new individuals who will commit to helping us reach millions of lost souls in the nations of the world, especially in the 10/40 window where many people still have not heard a clear gospel message. As a partner, you help us pull in the nets and present to God the Father an eternal harvest!

To join, go to perrystone.org or call the Voice of Evangelism office and speak with one of our staff by phone at (423) 478.3456. Again, the new Legacy Club Global Impact Membership will begin in June of 2026. 📞

STONE'S CROSSING: A NEW CHRISTIAN PROGRAM FOR FAMILIES

YOU MIGHT NOT BE as concerned about what children are learning if you have neither children nor grandchildren. However, if you are a parent or grandparent, you see it every day in all forms of secular media. Those global kids' networks offer cartoons and movies that are filled with occult figures, while at the same time brainwashing and teaching acceptance of cultural and social issues that have caused confusion among young people and even destroyed cities.

Growing up in the 1960s, cartoons and programs were simple and silly, and we stayed glued to the tube laughing with Bugs, Daffy, Elmer, Roadrunner, Mickey, and a host of other characters. There was Bozo the clown, Captain Kangaroo, Mr. Rogers, and others. These were clean, non-controversial, entertaining programs watched by all ages. Today, most kids who are stuck on computers and phones would consider them silly.

Board members who direct today's secular programming organizations have expressed in leaked audio their desire to change the mindsets of children, gearing them toward an agenda that is contrary to true Christian values. I have said for years, Christians parents and grandparents need another option.

This is one of the reasons we are thrilled to announce the development of Stone's Crossing, a faith-based YouTube show for the whole family. Hosted by children's minister Katie Stone, this dynamic program combines the warmth of Mr. Rogers' Neighborhood and the educational fun of Sesame Street. Set in a colorful town filled with loveable characters (including a Perry-puppet and his ancient relics), humorous skits, Bible trivia, and many important Bible lessons, Stone's Crossing aims to teach children about Jesus in a format that is both entertaining and meaningful. We have many original characters, episode scripts, workbooks, and unique storybooks heading your way!

Each episode features music, comedy, interactive teaching segments, and heartfelt messages that help kids understand God's love, all while making them laugh. Our pilot episode, "Feeling Lost, But Found by Christ," introduces viewers to the good shepherd who never gives up on us, no matter how lost we feel. We want you, your children, grandchildren, and whole family to share the adventures and help us establish this great, upcoming ministry, and be a part of bringing Stone’s Crossing to life.

IMPORTANT MESSAGE

VOE has spent the past year sowing hundreds of thousands of dollars into preparing an advanced video and sound production studio with the latest cameras and equipment, along with preparing sets, purchasing needed lighting equipment, customizing special puppets, and seeking out writers, artists, and employees needed to work on the programs and content.

I cannot think of any project that has more potential to transform the hearts and minds of the young and upcoming generation than Stone’s Crossing. To defer the cost of production, we need many of our friends and partners to invest a generous financial gift to VOE, marking it for “Stone’s Crossing Children’s Ministry.” There is so much work to be done, and once we are up and going, we need the funds to help us continue reaching the kids who will be our spiritual leaders in the future, should Christ tarry! Please catch the vision with us, as together we can help change the culture of children’s programming. 🙏

INSIDE THE MINISTRY

50th Ministry Anniversary 2026

I PREACHED MY FIRST MESSAGE at age 16 on a Wednesday night at the church my father pastored in Salem, Virginia. The first time I traveled to preach was at age 17 when my granddad invited me to his church in Gorman, Maryland. After graduating from high school, I began evangelizing in Virginia, West Virginia, and Maryland.

In June of 2026, I will celebrate 50 years of ministry. The number 50 is mind-blowing for me. At the beginning of my ministry, I was uncertain if the Body of Christ would make it past the year 2000! Obviously, God's ways and timing are not ours. Christ has not returned yet, and it is still God's desire for no one to perish. The Almighty is extending a season of grace and time for the church to reach more souls with the gospel of redemption.

I will celebrate this milestone of 50 years by remembering, as though it were yesterday, the moment I was called to preach, recalling 50 years of wonderful pastors, churches, partners, and friends, and by giving God all the glory for the great spiritual results He has allowed me to witness. Agree with me that our remaining time of ministry will be the most fruitful we have yet experienced.

THE LAST DAYS ARE HERE.
HOW WILL YOU PROTECT, PREPARE,
AND EMPOWER YOUR FAMILY?

Personally Signed Copy

I NEVER IMAGINED THAT THE DAY WOULD COME when my son Jonathan and I would co-author a book. Pam and I are amazed at the level of knowledge Jonathan has concerning prophetic insight, discernment of world events, and understanding of modern technology and how it is setting up the beast system. I have written around 100 books, and I have a style of writing that our readers are familiar with. Jonathan is on a much higher level than I am in his ability to craft words and paint a clear picture for the reader.

The book, Children of the Apocalypse, has been released and is now available through our ministry. It's an intriguing prophetic book with new insight from Jonathan and me. For those who order the book from the ministry, Jonathan and I will personally sign a first edition copy. The information is in this magazine. You can order the entire Manna-Fest offer, which will also include my latest prophetic messages on a two-CD album.

Date Day Once a Week

I WANT TO ENCOURAGE ALL COUPLES, including those who are seniors, to do the following. One of the great decisions Pam and I made is to designate one day each week for a date day where the two of us go somewhere together by ourselves. We look forward to this very much. We go somewhere to eat, and we talk the entire time we are driving and enjoying a meal. Sometimes she has me laughing uncontrollably. I love her, not just for what she does, but who she is.

Plan one day a week to get away and have time together. Stay in love and make memories. Try to take a few days away from home and come to one of the conferences here in Cleveland. You will meet many great people, and you'll be glad you came.

A Special Home for Men

PRESENTLY IN CLEVELAND, there is a large home with 17 bedrooms, three kitchens, and seven bathrooms, called True North Sober Living. Their mission statement reads:

“True North Sober Living—a safe, structured home for individuals rebuilding their lives through recovery, purpose, and community. Guided by faith, accountability, and support, we help each resident find their True North and stay the course toward freedom.”

Voice of Evangelism has worked for years with the Women of Hope, and now we are working with this new men’s ministry. If you know a man who is recovering from addiction and needs this type of support system, you can contact Paul Steele at True North Sober Living.

Resource Oriented

OVER FORTY YEARS AGO, I was made aware of two methods that any evangelistic ministry must depend on to continue ministry outreaches: donations and resources. For the past 50 years, much of our ministry income has come through the sale of ministry resources. In the early 80s, our resources included cassettes, videos, and 32-page books. As years progressed, we transitioned to CDs, DVDs, and larger books averaging 220 pages.

As the older generation is passing on to their eternal reward, not as many in the younger generation are reading books. They tend to watch short clips, read text messages, or watch videos on social media. They prefer downloads, and they seldom listen to CDs or watch DVDs.

I'm still a bit old school, so behind my desk is a combination cassette and CD player. I have hundreds of CDs of music and messages that are playing in the background during the day, often while I'm studying. I also still play DVDs and will continue to keep the equipment to play the countless messages and ministry resources I have accumulated over the years.

For almost 50 years, VOE has been resource-oriented, but now we find ourselves needing to transition to special donations and partnerships from those who want to join with us in our vision of reaching the lost for Christ through our national and global outreaches. This is why, in 2026, we will be adding some unique opportunities for ministry partnerships to help enlarge the tent of opportunity and expand our messages to the nations and unreached people.

MENTORSHIP PROGRAM

Return of the Ministry Mentoring Program

FOR SEVERAL YEARS, one of our most popular gatherings was our Mentoring Institute for Ministry. Men and women of all ages attended mentoring sessions that imparted valuable insight, instruction, and information on different aspects of ministry.

In April, we will be opening about 275 seats for our July 23rd -25th (Thursday evening through Saturday afternoon) mentoring sessions. The location will be the ISOW facility in Cleveland, Tennessee. I have asked Nik Walker and my daughter, Amanda, to join me. There will be a question-and-answer session, and a certificate will be mailed to attendees who complete the sessions. I will be sharing with attendees many important ministry keys I have learned during 50 years of ministry.
